Harold Import Brings Eco-Friendly to Textiles

JULY 7, 2007 — Harold Import Company introduces a new line of eco-friendly kitchen towels. The woven blend of bamboo and cotton makes a luxurious, soft and highly-absorbent fabric.

Bamboo is a grass — a naturally sustainable and replenishable resource. A heavy pulping process separates the bamboo into thin component threads of fiber. They're spun into a 60% bamboo / 40% cotton blend, dyed and woven into cloth.

The bamboo yarn's natural anti-bacterial and hygienic qualities are perfect for every-day kitchen use. The towels measure an over-sized 20" x 30" and are available in five colors at an SRP of $5.99
